"ROSE OF KILLARNEY"

Finely Staged and Acted at Loomer Opera House on St. Patrick's Day.

The public of Willimantic has witnessed the presentation of a number of amateur theatrical performances of more than the usual merit this season, but the staging of "The Rose of Killarney" at Loomer opera house Wednesday afternoon and evening by members of Division 1, A. O. H., and its ladies" auxiliary under the able personal direction of Charles E. Bloomer auroassed any amateur production givsurpassed any amateur production given in this city in years.

An excellent matines audience, composed largely of ladies and children, greeted the rise of the curtain on the opening scene. Migs Catherine Raffer-

The evening performance was still more finished and its unqualified success was a compliment to the individual members of the cast and Mr.

the fine performance.

The singing of "The Land of the Emerald Green" by Charles E. Bloomer was justly recognized and an encore was necessary to satisfy the audience. The pathos that underlies all fine Irish plays was notably apparent in both performances Wednesday and appeal-ed strongly to the enthusiastic audiences.

The cast of characters was: Arthur, Earl of Dunmore, Frank A. Cunningham; General Blackain, John J. McGuinness; Father Rozslyn, a curste, Thomas Moriarty; Mr Lockart, a lawyer, Eugene F. Martin; Farmer Robert Lawler, Joseph P. Connor; Davy O'Leary, a shepherd, Charles E. BARN BURNED. Early Morning Fire on Chapman Street.

An alarm rung in from box 61 on the south side of Main street, near the of-fine of the American Thread company, called out the fire department of the city at 4.15 o'clock Wednesday morning for a fire that consumed a small barn on Chapman street. Furniture stored in the barn was totally destroyed.

A large crowd of spectators gathered, out there was nothing to see, as the lames made quick work of the wooden The property belonged to the estate of the late Patrick Fitzpatrick.
